Chancellor's Message - CDOE

Dear REVAite,

I have often heard from my students that when they complete their education at REVA University, they always want to come back. REVA is a second home to them, and they wish to continue their learning journey even after they complete their degrees. This heartfelt sentiment sparked a thought in my mind and ultimately gave way to the establishment of the Centre for Distance & Online Education.

In today's fast-evolving world, learning can no longer be confined to the boundaries of a classroom or a fixed phase of life. Knowledge must be accessible, continuous, and adaptable to the changing needs of individuals and industries alike. Our Centre for Distance & Online Education has been envisioned to break down these barriers, bringing REVA University's academic excellence to learners wherever they are, at whatever stage of life or career they find themselves.

I believe true education empowers people to dream bigger and achieve more, regardless of circumstance. To every learner who chooses this path: your ambition to grow, upskill, and reinvent yourself is commendable. Distance need not mean disconnection; with us, it means opportunity without limits.

I warmly welcome you to this journey of lifelong learning with the Centre for Distance & Online Education, REVA University, and wish you every success ahead.

Best Wishes,

Dr. P. Shyama Raju
Chancellor
